

Stinky problem remains stickler for village board

FRANKFORT — Only those persons who park their cars vertical to the sidewalk on the east side of White Street in the vicinity of Kansas Street will be effected by the new ordinance on parking adopted by the village board Monday night.

The measure calls for parallel parking on both sides of White Street between U.S. 30 and Nebraska Street, and both sides of Nebraska between White and U.S. 45. Parallel parking has prevailed by common usage on both of those thoroughfares, with the exception of the space in front of Cooper-Show Ford and Rittenhouse and Embree Lumber where cars are parked vertical to the sidewalk.

The village board is still considering the question of parking on Kansas Street. Cars there park parallel on the north side and diagonally on the south side of the street.

Violation of the new parking ordinance carries a penalty ranging from $1 to $25, and police are authorized to have vehicles in violation towed away at the owners' expense.

The board also voted to petition the zoning board to hold a public hearing on a proposed change of street widths in new subdivisions. The village board favors a minimum width of 32 feet, back-to-back, and a maximum of 40 feet. The present width, back-to-back, is 40 feet. Back-to-back means the width of the street from the back of one curb to the back of the opposite curb. The term curb, it was explained, means curb and gutter, which is built in one piece, the standard width being 18 inches. Thus, the paved surface of a street will be 29 feet.

Mails to carry news

Cards, bearing the revised assessment on their holdings, are to be sent out this week, or early next, to all the property owners in Will County by the Board of Review.

Notification is being made this way, it was explained, rather than by publication in the newspapers serving the various townships, in order to save time.

Tax bills should be ready sometime around mid October, it was said, if no snags are encountered in establishing the rates. The rates, for the various taxing bodies, are used to multiply the assessed valuation to ascertain the amount of taxes due. For the first time in the county's history computers will be used to aid the county clerk's office in establishing the tax rates.

The taxes to be paid this year are based on the 1971 valuations, which are substantially up over the 1970 figures.

The figures, as finally totaled by the Board of Review, are the ones on which the rates are based. The review board's figures are higher than those of local assessors, in most instances, but are lower than the figures published in the late spring and early summer by the supervisor of assessments.

At a previous board meeting officials of Brummer Seal, a division of Borg-Warner, appeared to proclaim their Frankfort plant was not the source of unpleasant odors complained of from time to time by townspeople.

Trustee Howard Osmus revived the subject at this week's meeting. "At our last meeting," he said, "George Gordon, the works manager told us that Brummer-Seal was not the offender. I think we should investigate and see if we can't locate the source."

Trustee Wilbert Klier and Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen both said that when one passed by the Brummer plant, especially on the east side, one could frequently get a whiff of what they believed to be some solvent.

Mayor Glenn Warning pointed out that when Gordon appeared before the board he spoke of a "sulphur odor." Now it appears there are two odors to be traced.

Asked for a suggestion as to what course the village should take Village Attorney August J. Santoro advised that the police department was the enforcing agency of the municipality's ordinances and that one of them dealt with offensive odors. Let the police trace the odors to their source and issue tickets, he said, or prevail upon the offender to prevent such emissions. And while on the subject of odors Trustee Klier said complaints have been voiced to him about the smell of the oil used in street repairs.

Trustee Kohlhausen was authorized to reinvest $20,000 of motor fuel tax money that has been earmarked for a project that has been held up.

Permission was granted to the Kidney Foundation to conduct a fund drive in the village in October.

Mayor Warning said that the board should consider where to draw the line on fund drive permits.

"All of the causes are good," he said, "but there are getting to be so many solicitations by outside organizations that we may have to do something about it. It is not just a local problem; it is being discussed by other cities and villages."

The ordinance providing for voluntary contributions of land or cash to the elementary and secondary schools by subdividers will be discussed by the board at its Oct. 2 meeting, and probably again on its session Oct. 16, at which time Supt. Leroy M. Olson, of the Frankfort school system, and Supt. Joe Kruzich of Lincoln-Way High School are expected to attend. New Lenox and Mokena village boards adopted such an ordinance some time ago.

3H meets requests, receives okay

LINCOLN ESTATES — More than 125 persons attended the hearing of the Will County Zoning Board of Appeals held Tuesday Sept. 12, in Lincoln Estates concerning zoning requests for a liquor license by Dendrino's Restaurant, a miniature golf course by Collin Grey and building plans of the 3H Building Corporation.

Douglas Spesia, chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals, called the hearing to order promptly at 8:15 p.m. and adjourned it at 10:15 p.m. The 3H zoning request occupied the majority of the hearing board's attention.

Joliet Attorney Thomas S. Feehan, represented the interests of Dendrino's Restaurant. Feehan outlined the plan to enlarge the present facility in Lincoln Estates into a lounge and restaurant similar to the first restaurant operated by the owners in Tinley Park.

Mrs. Vivian Kluth of Lincoln Estates objected to the granting of the zoning necessary to obtain the liquor license on the grounds that the three taverns already in the area were enough for one small subdivision. Susan Sulkowski, also of Lincoln Estates, objected stating the corner is used heavily by children returning from school and that having a tavern located on that specific location would constitute a danger to the safety of the children as well as being a bad influence upon them.

June McCarter of Lincoln Estates also objected citing as her reason the desire to keep the family oriented community restaurant presently being operated where people would feel welcome to come as they are.

The matter is still under advisement by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

James Grey, an architect representing Collin Grey, presented to the board the plans of Collin Grey to develop about 2½ acres of a 20-acre parcel located north of Vollmer Road and west of Harlem Avenue in Will County as a miniature golf course. Grey stated that a frame club house and parking for 39 cars would be built for use in conjunction with the course.

Upon further questioning by Chairman Douglas Spesia, James Grey revealed that nearly 150 acres of real estate in the immediate area, in various sized parcels also was owned by Collin Grey. He did not indicate the intended use for this land.

The Zoning Board of Appeals has approved the application of Collen Grey. A final vote of the Will County Board is needed before construction can begin.

Roger Buckley, a consultant with Carl L. Gardner and Associates who are Municipal Planning Engineers, presented an outline of the 3H Building Corporation plans for its land south of St. Francis Road near Frankfort Square. The land, the former Rainford Farm, will be developed with single family, triplex and quadraplex type housing. Of the 220 acres owned by 3 H, only 45 percent will be built upon, according to Buckley. The remaining land will be allocated to streets, parks and resident service areas.

Stanley Grosshandler, vice-president and general counsel of 3H Builders, upon questioning by Douglas Spesia, revealed that no federal funding of any kind will be used to develop 3 H property in Will County.

Grosshandler further revealed that his firm would finish paving 80th Avenue through its property without cost to the township and that that portion of St. Francis Road which is unpaved on the north boundary of their property to the west boundry also will be completely paved at no cost to the township.

In addition, Grosshandler stated that 3 H would straighten out the two hairpin curves on St. Francis Road thus creating a safer thoroughfare for area residents.

Grosshandler also committed his firm upon further questioning by Spesia, to placing no more than 10 residential units per gross acre. He indicated a letter would be sent the next day confirming this agreement.

Grosshandler also noted that the majority of the lot sizes would be in excess of 9,400 square feet. He stated that the present price range for the multi-family units will be $24,000 to $28,000 and single family units will be $25,000 to $35,000 with average being about $30,000.

He also stated that it is 3H's present intention to develop the project over the next six years. When asked how the prices would compare next year as against this year, Grosshandler stated that the quality of the original homes would be maintained. If prices go up, the price of the homes also will go up.

Grosshandler confirmed the 3H Building Corporation's financial commitments to various taxing bodies in the township.

Noting that Glenn P. Coburn, chairman of the Frankfort Township Planning Commission, had bargained hard on behalf of area residents, he stated that $10.00 per unit would go to the Frankfort Township Fire Protection District; $35.00 per unit to the Lincolnway High School District; $150.00 per unit to District 161 Grade Schools, $2,500.00 to District 161 Schools for special services and $2,500.00 to the Frankfort Library District, an increase of $1,500.00 over the firm's previous commitment. Land also will be donated to the Fire Protection District when needed for a fire station as well as to the District 161 for a school when needed.

Aldo Fanti, Superintendent of District 161, indicated his full agreement with the contributions announced by 3H. Upon questioning by Mrs. Arthur Golk of Frankfort Square regarding the potential impact on the new Frankfort Square School, Fanti indicated that the 3 H development would definitely cause a strain on the school for a time. With the present system of school funding in Illinois, it would be impossible to avoid some problems when new developments rise in an area, noted Fanti.

Joseph Kruzich, superintendent of Lincolnway High School, also indicated acceptance of the 3 H contributions.

Representatives from all other area taxing bodies concerned were in attendance at the meeting. All expressed satisfaction with the cooperation received from 3H.

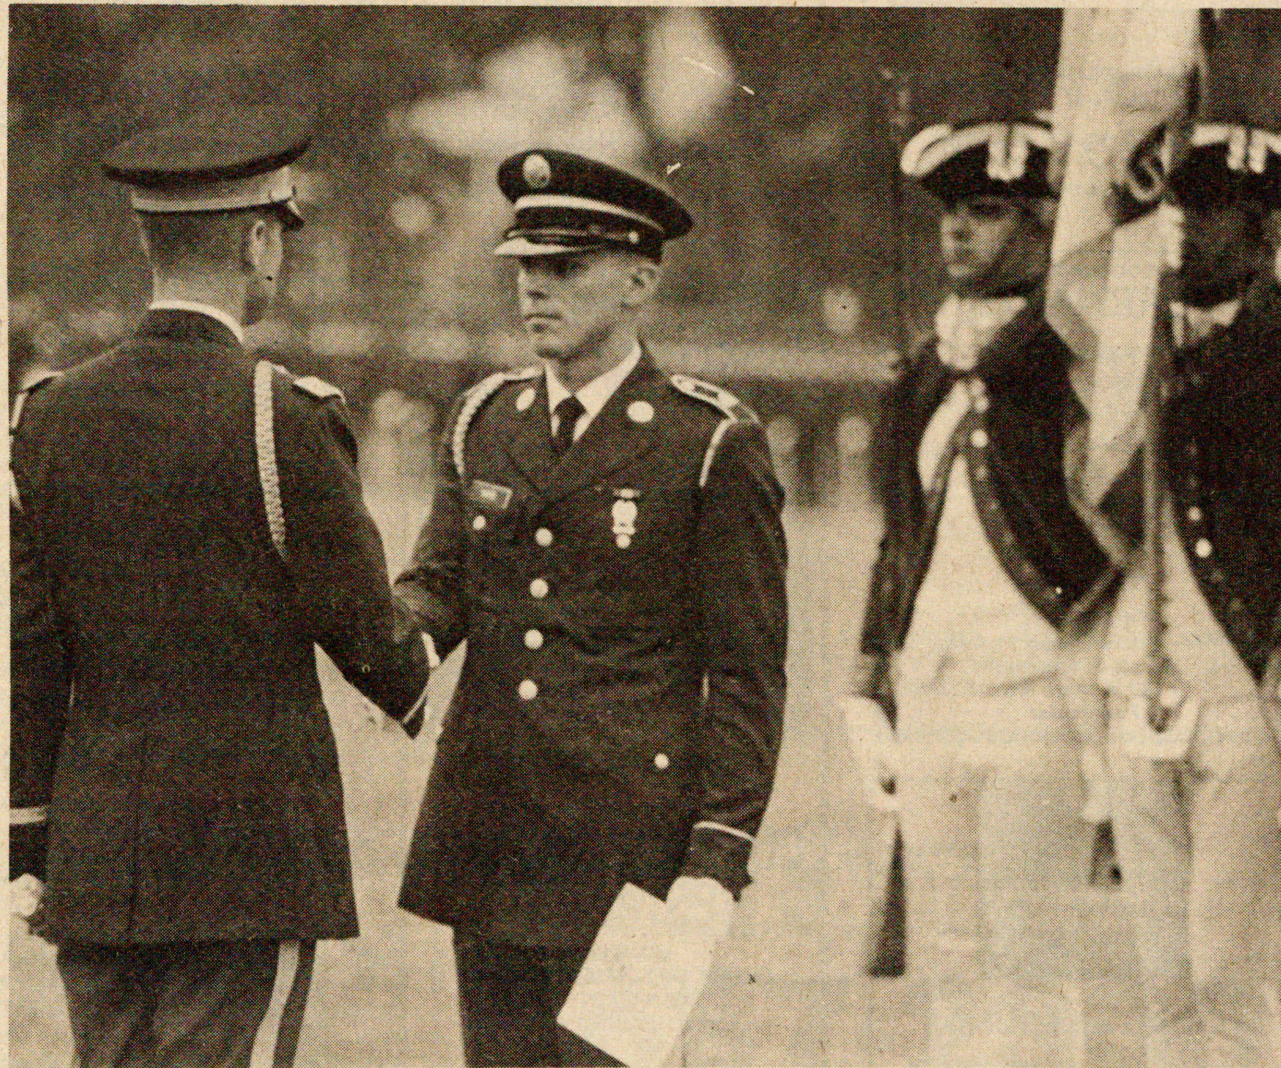

Glenn P. Coburn, in his continuing effort to establish a Will County Planning Commission with influence and authority, invited a number of Will County Board members to attend the hearing to demonstrate to them how much an area can benefit by proper planning and prior consultation with potential builders such as was accomplished between the Frankfort Township Planning Commission and 3 H Building Corporation. Those Will County Board Members who accepted Coburn's invitation indicated that they were impressed by the results.

The Will County Zoning Board of Appeals has approved the R-1 application of 3 H Building Corporation and the matter now goes to the Will County Board for final approval.

Donate equipment

Olde guard taps white top ceremonial soldier

FORT MEYER, VA. — A New Lenox man has been named Soldier of the Month in the first Battalion, Third Infantry (The Old Guard), at Fort Meyer.

Specialist Four Stephen D. White was the choice. The Old Guard is a ceremonial unit that serves on various special occasions and assignments, including burials at Arlington National Cemetery and the guard duty at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier there.

White is a casket bearer and a marching platoon member in B Company. He says he is proud of being selected as the battalion's Soldier of the Month and that he worked hard to get it.

"I try to do the best job I know how," he said, "for if anything is worth doing, its worth doing well."

Sp4 White says he is still undecided as to what he'll do when he gets out of the army in November, 1973. His outside activities at Fort Meyer include playing outfield for the Military District of Washington (MDW) softball team, and bowling. Sp4 White has bowled professionally. His top score so far, he said, is 290.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Drexel White, New Lenox. He was graduated from Lincoln-Way High School in 1966, and from Bradley University, Peoria, in 1970 with a degree in business management and administration. In college he minored in math and was a member of the Theta Xi fraternity. He was president of his class as a freshman and was a member of the Student Senate for four years.

In August, 1969, he married Barbara Toppen, of Mokena, a school teacher. Following his graduation White also taught in Mokena. He was a teacher of mathematics in junior high at Willowcrest School until he was drafted in November, 1971. He completed his basic combat training at Fort Lewis, Wash., Jan. 28, 1972, and assigned to the Old Guard where he completed his advanced individual training last March 17 at Camp A. P. Hill, Virginia.

Funds for scholarships

Flea market plays to 10,000

By Dick Marks
PALOS HILLS — The Community Center Foundation Children's Farm, 12700 Southwest Highway, held its first Flea Market with its annual Fall Festival, Sept. 16.

The festival, a fund-raising benefit for the camp's scholarship fund, had games, sheep shearing, horse rides, food and hay rides for the 10,000 people that came to the festival during the day.

Tickets for the rides and games at the festival were 15 cents each. The proceeds from the tickets are used for the foundation's scholarship fund. The fund is used to help disadvantaged children in the Chicago and outlying areas.

"We get Mexican, Indian, and Black children as well as children from well-to-do families," said Rev. Frank Sanders, executive director of the foundation. "Some of the children come from agencies in the Chicago Metropolitan area. Others write in a request for help from the foundation for their children to come to the farm," Rev. Sanders added.

The foundation runs two camp programs for the children in the summer. One-third of those children are helped by scholarships. The two sessions, the farm and ranch camps, run from late June to late August.

The farm camp has 40 children from 8 to 11 years old in each of its four, 2 week sessions during the summer. Each child pays $100.

The children eat at the main lodge retreat center and sleep in cabins below the center at night. They are supervised by nine counselors.

During the day, the children at the farm camp have a choice of what they want to do. In the early evening they can play games and enter contests.

The ranch camp is for older children between 12 and 15. The children pay 175 for a one week session, but there are only ten youngsters in each session. Three counselors supervise the children as they ride horses, play games and camp out.

The foundations camps, retreat center and camping area cover 78 acres in the Palos Hills area. The foundation, a non-profit organization, was started in 1931. The farm was donated by Ernest J. Warner to Rev. Paul T. Sanders, and put in trust with the Southwest Suburban Community Center Foundation.

"The foundation was started to provide a service to people of all nationalities and creeds and to give them a place to meet," said Fred Gross, camp director. "The Community Center tries to initiate programs where the need is," he said.

The community center is part of the Interfaith Church run by Rev. Sanders. They are an organization that tries to run an inner racial, inner faith and inner economic program, Sanders said.

Over the past year, 36,000 children have come to the center on field trips and outings as well as entering the camp programs. From these groups, the foundation tries to raise $3,000 to use in the scholarship fund for the next year, Rev. Sanders said.

During the fall and winter seasons, the center sponsors a coffee house for high school teens. The young adults meet from 8 to 11 on Friday nights. They can talk, play guitars or just relax. Once a month the counselors at the center organize activities for the teens, such as hay rides, ice skating or showing movies instead of having a coffee house. Admission to these activities is free.

Dealer offers presidents

TINLEY PARK — A profile of the United States Presidency, in the words of the six presidents who have helped shape the highest office in the land over the past 40 years, is capsulized on a new long-play record available to local service customers of Finigan Ford Company, 17048 S. Oak Park Ave.

Entitled "Six Presidents Speak," the 33-1-3 r.p.m. record was produced by CBS News. CBS commentator Charles Collingwood narrates the anthology of presidential recollections.

Captured on the record are the voices of the 32nd through 37th presidents, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S.

Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon. These six presidents interpret the powers, the duties and the 'Awesome responsibilities' of the Presidency.

Vehicle owners will be invited by mail to pick up a copy of the record from Finigan Ford when having one of six service specials performed in September or October.

Among the service specials that will qualify customers for the free record offer are engine tune-ups, oil and filter changes, cooling system check and brake inspection.

Orland hopes to stop rezoning

ORLAND PARK — "I didn't really hear anything in the testimony the other day that there is any need for a change in zoning. It seems to me their petition reaches the point of absurdity. I see no trend in this area for an R-5 that density," Village Attorney Raymond Pieper told the village board Monday.

Hearing this report on the Cook County Zoning Hearing on the proposed Hillcrest planned development the village board approved Monday night getting the support of neighboring communities in making an objection to the County Board. Village President Melvin Doogan said he would like all the communities south from Oak Lawn to join in the resolution condemning the type of rezoning asked.

FIRST

"See if we can't go as a group. I believe if we have one party come in like this we are going to ruin the whole community," said Doogan. Trustee Roger Frantz said he has an indication that officials from Tinley Park will attend the continued hearing Nov. 20.

Pieper said the maximum density allowed in Orland Park is 4.8 units per acre. The proposed planned development would have 9.4 units per acre. The attorney said using the developer's figures 559 elementary school children in the development would require one school building. "If we have one school on every 80 acres we're in trouble," he said.

Five bids were received to do road work under a Motor Fuel Tax Program allotting $100,000 funds to the Village. Low bid of $75,568 received from Silvestri Paving Company was accepted. Next lowest bidder was Ready Paving and Construction at $75,748.

The road improvements will be on 146th Street from West Avenue to Highland Avenue; south on Highland to 147th Street; and east on 147th to West. Also, 88th Avenue from Golfview to 147th Street will be improved and curbing installed.

The engineer's estimate on the job was between $90,000 and $100,000.

Mrs. Joan Patterson, chairman of the recent Orland Park Art Fair, presented the village with three water colors for display in the administration building. The pictures of Orland scenes done by James Durish, were donated by the Orland Park Hills Homeowners' Association, whose President Cass Piorkowski was present.

Winner of a flag design contest held in February 1971, Adrienne Rafacz was on hand to present officials with the first completed village flag. The brown, white and green design on a white flag shows an eagle hovering over a golf ball on a green pedestal. The motto reads "Golf Center of the World." Adrienne who lives at 153rd Street and 94th Avenue, is a first year student at Carl Sandburg High School.

Trustee Robert Bibeau said 14 such flags will be set out at different locations in the village. Bibeau gave a nod of appreciation to Lion Jerry Steen for pushing the project to completion, and to J. Francis Chase who contributed his efforts in making the design suitable for cloth representation. Chase is known for his artistic scenes drawn in the Talman Bank calendar, among other works.

Mrs. Sue Moustakas, owner of the Sandbox Pre-School in Palos Heights, appeared before the board to announce plans to open a second Pre-school in Orland. Mrs. Moustakas said one half of her enrollment comes from Orland Park. She will begin immediately in rented space in the Christ Lutheran Church with the intent to build at a future date. The board approved her proposal subject to compliance with State Regulations.

In other matters the board: — heard that Indian Oaks has agreed to put in additional paved parking within 60 days.

— approved nine building permits totalling $254,000; a garage permit at 8850 Chadbourne; and a garage building permit for Henry Horn subject to Committee approval;

— received a letter from the Metropolitan Sanitary District asking that it be informed of any sewer work in the village;

— received a letter from Engineer Advisor Harrison Smith outlining results of a three-day inspection of sewers, streets and water in Cameno Real No. 1;

— referred a proposal for sweeping service to Superintendent of Public Works;

— increased the compensation for the Village Planning Consultant William Lawrence and Associates from $100 to $200;

— approved hiring a stenographer at $15 a meeting for the Planning Commission;

— authorized sending a letter to Alsterda asking a time schedule for work being done in the Eberhardt subdivision.

said one was about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches tall, with brownish hair that came down to his shoulders. The other was two or three inches shorter, he said, with hair that was darker in color and not as long as that of his companion.

The youth was not molested in any way, Chief Massey said. The men did not use any names in their conversation the boy said, according to the police report. They asked him his father's name and occupation, and wanted to know the address and telephone number. The boy told the chief he did not give the telephone number but gave the other information requested.

More than 100 persons joined in the hunt after the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sheppard, had reported the boy had been missing since about 3:30 o'clock. He was supposed to be home by then but as darkness came the parents reported the youngster to be missing.

Chief Massey said the Frankfort Police Department was grateful for the assistance given it by all those who took part in the search.

Boy returns home safe

FRANKFORT — Russell Shepard, 10, 330 Oregon St., object of a night long search by police, firemen and others after he had been reported missing Saturday, arrived home under his own power about 7 a.m. Sunday.

According to Frankfort Police Chief T.A. Massey the youngster said two men forced him into a blue van between 4:30 and 5 p.m. Saturday, at Kansas and Maple streets. His bicycle also was placed in the van and they drove around for a long time, according to what the boy told Frankfort police. He said he finally fell asleep and when he woke up he was lying in a field and his abductors and their van had disappeared.

Chief Massey said police have checked several fields but did not find any evidence of where anyone had walked through weeds and placed a burden down. The lad's bicycle was found in a field along the east side of U.S. 45, north of the Lexington retirement home property.

Chief Massey said the boy described the two men who carried him off. He

Kirby board will ask approval fifth time

TINLEY-ORLAND — Members of the Kirby School District 140 approved a motion to hold the fifth referendum for that district on Oct. 14 in an attempt to pass a $1.2 million bond issue and a $125,000 rent program.

April 4 marked the fourth time taxpayers voiced down an identical referendum.

It is important to note, however, that, although the numbers will be the same on Oct. 4, the schedule had to be reduced from a five-year program to only a three-year program.

One board member stated that he hoped, "for some breathing time before they had to consider building again." He said now they will just have to keep on fighting.

Should drop causes crash

WESTHAVEN — Wet pavement and poor road shoulder conditions were blamed for a one-car accident Tuesday of last week which sent five teenaged Orland Park girls to Palos Community Hospital.

State Trooper David Jackson, investigating officer, said the vehicle driven by 17-year-old Kathleen Lynch, 7713 Sycamore, Orland Park, was traveling west on 159th Street when it struck a dip in the road and Miss Lynch apparently lost control of the car.

Jackson's report said the car swerved to the right and slid into a tree. The Orland Park Fire Department ambulance took Miss Lynch and her passengers to the hospital where they were treated and released.

Those injured included Sharon Kachinsky, 15, 7950 Sycamore; Kathy H. Moore, 14, 7922 Sycamore; Barbara J. Franquella, 13, 7955 Ponderosa; and Karen Lynch, 14, 7713 Sycamore.

The accident occurred at approximately 7 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 12, at the Thompson Horse Farm, 159th Street and 89th Avenue.

That evening, following the accident, state highway maintenance personnel placed flashing yellow warning lights at the site of the accident and the following day, repairs on the five-inch drop-off were completed.

The accident was near the entrance to north Westhaven. A resident of that area said that the drop-off had caused four accidents in the past three months before the repairs were made last week.

Checks political strategy

By Michael J. Flynn

Campaign '72 will probably go down into the history books as one of the most unique on record. Senator George McGovern has been campaigning hard for the presidency against incumbent Richard M. Nixon. But, has Richard M. Nixon been campaigning against George McGovern? It does not appear that he is.

Although Nixon did not formally begin his campaign for re-election until after the well planned and militarily executed Republican National Convention in Miami Beach, it is difficult to tell the difference between now and the time before his formal nomination.

We still rarely hear from the President directly on campaign issues and his future plans for the country. Pronouncements on the issues and disagreements with McGovern statements are for the most part made by members of the White House Cabinet. Men who are not elected to their offices and who are not answerable to an electorate are speaking for the President of the United States who in turn can, if the necessity presents itself, disclaim any and all responsibility for wrong or unpopular statements.

Nixon is hiding behind his non-elected aides and is using government time and facilities to try and defeat a duly nominated candidate for the highest public office in our land.

Issues that have toppled former political powerhouses in public office are being withheld from public view or are being so heavily played down that their importance is minimized.

In Vietnam, we are suffering losses of planes and pilots at an ever increasing rate yet no figures are being published. The cost of the undeclared war, entered into during the Eisenhower era, is threatening to exceed the cost when over half a million troops were stationed there.

The Watergate incident, a disgusting bit of political skulduggery of electronic spying on the Democratic Party Headquarters, is growing bigger every day and more of the Nixon Cabinet members are being drawn into it. Official denial pronouncements from Washington would make us all believe that the whole affair was nothing more than a childish prank by a bunch of young kids out on the town for a lark.

The heavily publicized $750 million Soviet grain purchase may well turn out to be the biggest scandal since the turn of the century if honest government officials are able to prove that the administration allowed insiders into the deal to reap huge profits from the hard pressed farmers by buying their grain up before the announcement of the purchase was released thus increasing grain prices.

A recent issue of U.S. News and World Report carries an article about how the Federal Bureau of the Budget is using its employees and computers to analyze the McGovern tax proposals. The salaries of cabinet members, their staffs and facilities are being used to operate the smooth Nixon campaign. Recently, even the White House chefs got into the campaign act in Pennsylvania in what was termed a non-partisan event.

Who is paying for all of this? Is it the Republican campaign coffers rich with contributions such as the $25,000 check from a Minneapolis man who wanted a national bank charter in a hurry, and he got it, or is it the taxpayer's money?

James R. Hoffa, former president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is suddenly released from a federal prison after serving a term for the violation of several of our most basic laws. Hoffa has a right to a parole just as any other convicted criminal but, why did his union, for the first time in its history, become the first to endorse for re-election a president from the Republican Party?

Capitalizing upon fear and prejudices is surfacing as a Nixon campaign tactic. The former mayor of San Francisco, a Republican, is recently quoted as demanding an apology from Vice-Presidential candidate Sergeant Shriver for a slur upon Greek-Americans supposedly made by Shriver when he attacked Vice-President Spiro Agnew's recent attack upon young dissenters who desire changes in government. Shriver opposed Agnew and his position on the young, the only Greek in question was Agnew and he is an American of Greek ancestry.

Let the electorate hear from the man and men they will vote into office or defeat. There have been enough professionals doing all the talking up to now. They have no mandate from Americans, President Richard M. Nixon does and we have a right to know what he thinks and wants, not what his staff members tell us he thinks and wants.

The system

Urge uniform probation

The existing system through which criminal offenders are allowed to go free on probation rather than being sent to jail must be upgraded significantly if it is to accomplish its original intention.

Probation was designed to give the offender a second chance to live within the accepted guidelines of society rather than being exposed to the life of habitual criminals in a prison.

Rehabilitation serves the best interests of the individual, and all society, more effectively than incarceration.

Similarly, it is in the best interests of society to see to it that the probation system functions as intended.

Unfortunately, the system in Illinois appears to be falling short of the mark.

The John Howard Association, a not-for-profit organization which focuses on crime and delinquency prevention, recently released a study report which amounts to an indictment of the state probation systems.

In the study report, the JHA revealed probation officers vary in age from 21 to 85 years. Some may have one or more graduate degrees, another a second-grade education. Some earn $175 per month other $11,500 per year.

Moreover, there is not one system of probation for the entire state, but a different one for each county. Some circuit courts maintain their own systems. Some have combined adult-juvenile systems, some separate.

No county, however, employs the civil service system in their probation departments. All positions are filled by appointment, which all too often are political in nature.

One of the most serious obstructions to an effective and equitable probation system is the result of sheer numbers.

The average probation officer in the state handles 110 cases at one time, while national agencies recommend a maximum of 35 to 50 cases for each officer.

While we cannot support the recommendation of the JHA that a far greater percentage of criminals be placed on probation, we fully endorse their call for a drastic change in the county and state systems.

The individual county probation systems should be eliminated and replaced with a statewide system, which should be operated through the administrative office of the Illinois courts.

The state probation system should be financed through the state rather than by the individual counties and there should be established a standard method of selecting which offenders will receive probation and which will be imprisoned.

Additionally, the state system should incorporate standards of selecting probation officers, preferably requiring at least a bachelor's degree, training and continuing guidance.

A probation system must be maintained to prevent criminals capable of rehabilitation from receiving a "master's degree in crime" while imprisoned. At the same time the public must be assured that those who endanger society are incarcerated.

The best way to provide a probation system which can accomplish those goals, we believe, is through the development of a statewide system, with more, better qualified and politically free probation officers.

Only then will the people of the state be assured of a proper, equitable and effective probation system for the entire state.

On second thought

Lax tax cause for concern

By Glenn Logan

I notice that the papers last week carried a statement by Gov. Richard Ogilvie that he is still working on a proposal that he submitted earlier in the year to freeze real estate and personal property taxes for a period.

It seemed strange that the legislature didn't give it a whirl when it was first brought up. Election year, you know, and it is not often that legislators pass up an opportunity to climb aboard a popular issue when there are votes to be won. Certainly legislation freezing taxes should fall into the category of popular issues.

So far this year Will County Taxpayers have not had to part with any real estate or personal property tax money but not because of any freeze. It is just because there has been a delay in getting the final valuation figures.

This was a quadrennial year. That is when real estate is revalued for taxing purposes. When the assessors finish their job the valuations are published and property owners who think they are over-assessed can file a complaint with the board of review, and sometimes they win and sometimes they lose. When the board of review is finished with the books, an abstract setting forth the total valuations is filed with the state for approval. If the state crew feels that the valuations are too low a multiplying factor is assigned to boost them to the 50 per cent, or whatever per cent that has been decreed, of the fair market value of the property as its assessed value. If the totals are found to be okay then a factor of one is given, and the assessed valuation is the one used in making out the tax bills.

But before the bills can be made out the tax rates must be established. Making the rates is a job that is done by the county clerk's office, and is a complicated and time consuming task. Normally the extension of taxes by the county clerk's force takes about six weeks. Then comes preparation of the bills. For some years now the county has been preparing tax bills through its data processing department and this doesn't take long, as compared to ante-computer days.

In a normal year the tax bills are in the hands of taxpayers in the late spring so that collection gets under way before the June 1 deadline for the first installment on real estate taxes and payment in full on the personal property bit. The second installment on the real estate tax bill is Sept. 1. Those who miss these deadlines have penalties to pay in addition to the tax bill.

There have been delays before in getting out the tax bills, usually in a quadrennial year, and the county board has extended the June 1 deadline to some date in July to spare the taxpayer from penalties. But this year has been like no other year, and it shouldn't surprise anyone if it is a one-shot deal when it comes to paying the bills this fall.

The published lists of valuation were late in getting to the newspapers this year and when they did the moans, the groans, the roar that went up from the taxpayers must have caused residents in distant states to pause and say — "What was that?"

Moans, groans, words and even roars might have struck the board of review as a disagreeable experience but would have had no effect on its time or task. But the moans, groans etc., however, were quickly followed by protests, written ones, and those became board of review business.

Thousands of these protests came pouring in, practically burying the board. When a complaint comes in that the assessment of a piece of property is too high, the board is supposed to study all the aspects of the case, including an inspection of the property.

There were so many protests filed this year that someone estimated it would take the board of review some seven years to wade through all the complaints on hand, even if the members worked 12-hour days, including Sundays and holidays.

Yours truly doesn't know how the business was finally settled but apparently it was because all the figures have been certified and sent away and Deputy Clerk Martin Gregorich and his tax rating colleagues in the county clerk's office are flexing arms and fingers preparatory to hurling themselves into the annual battle of extending taxes.

This makes it look like the tax freeze in Will County will end before winter sets in and the people decide whether to spend their money on Christmas or taxes. It might be even sooner than that if the scheme to use the county's data processing machinery in helping to extend taxes is carried out. Use of this machinery could delay things too, it was pointed out.

There are many who would cheer further delay of tax payments but you won't hear them coming from those in charge of the different governing bodies, municipalities, schools districts, park districts, etc., not to speak of the county itself which also lives on taxes.

These taxing bodies generally start getting in tax money early in July and usually get all they are going to get by early November. This year, of course, there has been no money. Municipalities have been able to get along on their shares of the state motor fuel tax and the state income tax, but the schools and other bodies, which do not have this additional income, have had to borrow funds to see them through, and borrowing costs a lot of money, as many people can testify.

To relieve this situation is the reason for all the haste now in getting tax bills out. But yours truly is somewhat dubious about letting a computer get into the act. They can be right, but they also can be wrong and when wrong they are so danged bullheaded when it comes to admitting they too can err.

"Well, have a nice Christmas, anyway."

Number please?

don't give it out

When you receive an obscene or harassing phone call, don't forget that you are in control of the telephone conversation. And you can end it at any time by merely hanging up.

— Try not to show any emotion or reaction over the phone; just calmly hang up. Slamming the receiver indicates you are frightened or irritated which may be exactly what the caller wants.

— Don't plead with the caller to never call you again. This may be the reaction he is looking for; it may actually encourage him to call again.

— Never give your phone number when the caller says he has the wrong number. Instead, ask what number he was calling and tell him that is not your number.

— Notify the telephone company and police of all strange calls.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

On October 7, 1972 the Village of Mokena will hold a referendum on the proposal regarding purchase of the Walter Yunker garage on Front Street. I am vitally concerned about this or I would not take the time to put in writing my feelings. I am a Trustee, I have been a resident of Mokena all my life and am a taxpayer as everyone is, either directly or indirectly.

life and am a taxpayer as everyone is, either directly or indirectly.

The referendum is being held at the request of 51 people who signed a petition and submitted same to the Village Board. I am not against petitions or referendums but I do think that people who sign petitions should be aware of all the facts before they put their name on the line. The only way to get the facts and understand certain situations is to attend village board meetings. Hearsay and gossip are not good enough. As none of the petitioners, nor anyone in fact, has approached the village board I think they are not truly informed.

Therefore, I would like to point out some facts and reasons why I am in favor of the village acquiring this property.

1. For the past two years or so, and maybe more, there have been studies made and prints drawn to put an addition on the village hall and have a building constructed at the sewage disposal site. The addition to the hall was to house the police department thereby making it possible to raze the eye-sore which the department now uses. The building at the plant site was to be a workshop and storage area for equipment. These two items were estimated to cost $18,000. The financial situation of the village prohibited either one of these projects, as it does today.

2. Mokena is growing and will continue to grow at a more rapid pace. As a trustee I feel one of my important obligations to the people is to try to help control the growth and plan for the future. As we grow, the need for more equipment arises, and the need for more and better police protection becomes inherent. We cannot expect the police department to grow in stature and do the job we want done with the environment they now have, namely a broken-down old home that should be condemned. We cannot expect to buy new equipment and let it sit out in the elements, as we have been doing with no choice but to do so. We cannot expect village employees to do a good job with rusty and broken-down equipment with no place to keep it and no place to repair it. If village employees can make some repairs, which we now have to pay someone else to do, and equipment can be put under a roof when not in use, there is no doubt in my mind that we will save tax dollars in the long run.

3. without money to build or purchase what we need and require, our only alternative is to borrow or buy under contract. If we borrow money so much has to be paid back every year, plus interest, and this is impossible under present income conditions. That leaves us with the choice of purchasing under contract. It is estimated to take a 12 cent rate the first year of the proposed contract. In order to offset this increase the village board has eliminated two 5 cent rates in the current levy, thereby increasing the net rate by 2 cents. This means a two-dollar yearly increase in taxes on a $10,000 assessment. Also, as the valuation within the village increases the rate will decrease as to this contract.

4. In our negotiations it was agreed that, before we would purchase the building, Mr. Yunker would have a new front overhead door installed with an automatic opener and have the roof razeled if the roofing company deems it necessary. Also, until such time as the village would need all the space for storing equipment, part of the garage would be leased to the township on a rental basis to be determined on area used.

I hope that the above may clear up some questions you may have had, and that you will give some consideration to my reasons for favoring this proposal.

Green grass of loom

Carpets. The country has gone nuts over carpets. It used to be that the carpet's place was in the home. Not anymore. Today's the carpet's place is anywhere you find it.

Use of carpeting out of door appears to be growing in popularity. As far as our scouts have been able to ascertain the playing fields at Eaton and the cricket grounds at Lords are still grass and dirt but in the USA they undoubtedly would be some brand of artificial turf — which is just another way of spelling carpet.

How this would work for a soccer field beyond these shores, where soccer is played by experts, is difficult to say. A fellow with clever feet could do a lot of moving of the ball on a carpet surface, it would seem to me. Probably have to change the rules like in billiards, when they invented 18.2 and 18.1 balkline, so that an expert at straighttrail could get home sometimes or get enough time away from nursing those balls along the rails and round and round and round the tables, to get a square meal.

On thinking it over, however, the carpet pushers might do well to stay away from soccer. Those soccer fans — in the lands where that is the No. 1 or No. 2 spectator sport — appear to have short fuses on their tempers and prone to riot when something displeases. They kill people, those soccer fans, they really do, kill them dead.

I suppose most of the college gridirons in the U.S. are still turf for economic reasons but the professional footballers play on carpets as to the baseballers. Beautiful Wrigley Field, as they say on radio and TV, still has its dirt and grass diamond but carpet has claimed the others as well as all the fields where the professional footballers reap their rewards.

On the baseball field one can see how the ball bounces. On the football fields one can see that players bounce very well too.

Some of this artificial turf comes in a pretty shade of green, although colored TV can play tricks with it and the green may come out blue, with shades of brown or yellow with maybe a dash of red tossed for good measure, but you know it's not dirt, or if it is, it's not common dirt.

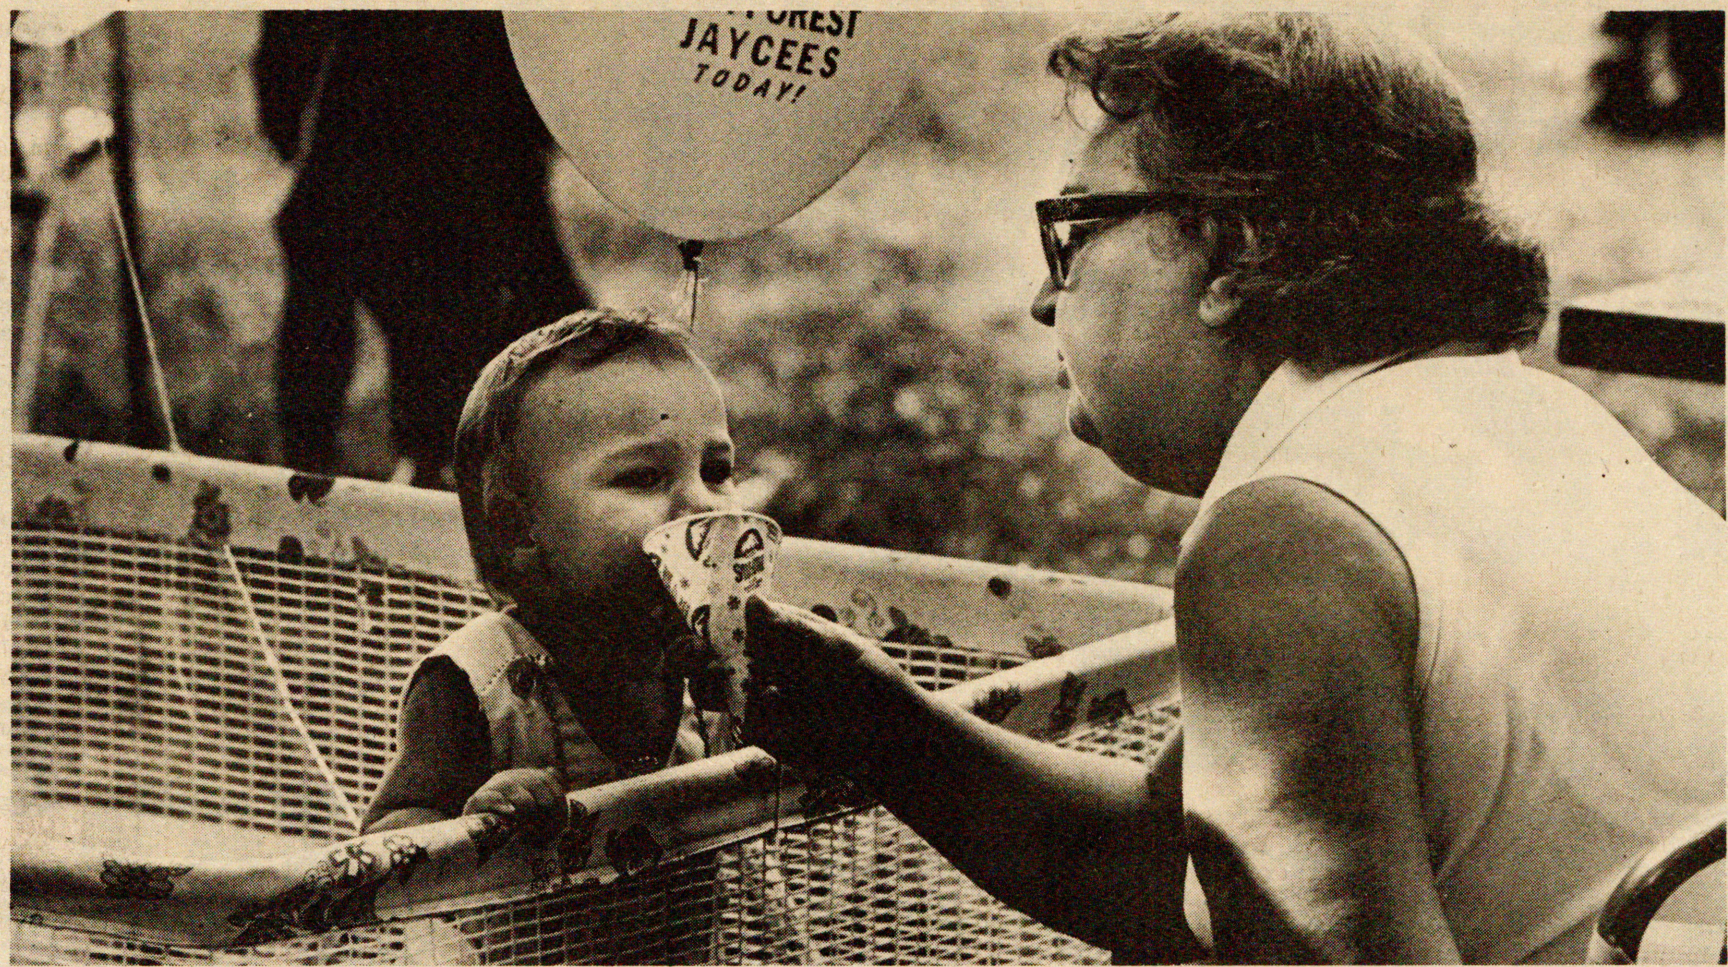

I have a cousin who spent a number of years in Iran and was one of the American group, that with the dignitaries of Iran, who met the late President Eisenhower's plane when he visited the Shah. The airport is about six miles out of Terhan and the highway leading from the airfield to the capital was covered solid with gorgeous Persian rugs over which the long line of cars, rolled back to town.

The weather had been bad and some of the cars that churned over this six-mile course of deluxe carpeting were equipped with chains. Cousin Bill didn't know what damage, if any, was suffered by the rugs but felt certain no one was worrying about that. The Shah of Iran is reputed to be wealthy enough to afford a credit card.

Which reminds me. Anyone planning a wall-to-wall job, inside or outside, and is going to charge it — pick out a good, tough carpet so it will not be worn out before you get it paid for.

If park boards and municipalities would just carpet the parks and recreation centers they would save a lot of money by eliminating those "Keep off the Grass" signs.

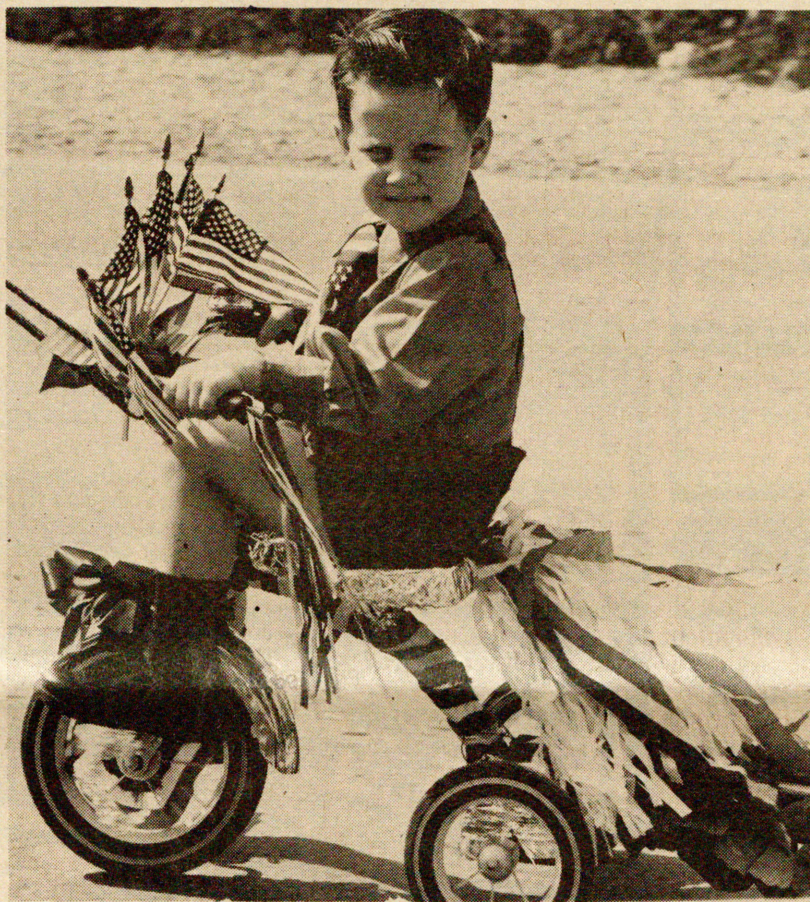

Sno cones were sold out before the picnic ended.

The Annual Homeowners Golf Tournament and Dinner Party is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 23. Every homeowner in Prestwick is eligible to attend this gala event even if they don't belong to the club. Once a year, the course we all look at throughout the year becomes our private property and what fun has been had in the past. Let's have a real turn out and let's all strongly suggest to mother nature that she be nice for at least a day.

The Prestwick Open Tournament was held last Sunday. The winners were Mike Strilich, Pheasant Trail, Gill Lysaker, Golf Club Lane, Ray Duesing, Dolton and Bill Hopf, Palos Heights, all in first as a team with 18 under par in the two best ball tournament. Second place team was Roy Mueller, Olympia Fields, Joe Solow Park Forest, Milt Rumsey, Prestwick Drive and Bill Farrell, Flossmoor, with a 17 under par. We hear that young Mr. Strilich who caddied for his father did alright for himself. How does it feel to be a pro?

The football star of Prestwick, John Heniff of Prestwick Drive, was injured last Saturday during a game between Lincolnway High School and Tinley Park High School at Tinley Park. His injury was not serious, fortunately, but it did put him into South Suburban Hospital for a few days. John says that he will be back playing soon. He noted that during the same game, the quarterback and defensive-end were both injured enough to remove them from the game.

The St. Anthony Teens Club will be sponsoring a bake sale on Oct. 1st to raise a little money for a possible future trip. Items will be on sale at all Sunday masses in the chapel at St. Francis Woods according to club President John Heniff.

For athletics this year there will be intramural basketball for the boys and intramural volleyball for the younger girls. For the competitive athletic there will be wrestling, basketball for boys and volleyball for the girls.

In order for the athletic program to remain a success it will be necessary for more adults to volunteer, particularly in the basketball program. There is an urgent need for basketball coaches and assistant coaches. If you are willing to volunteer your services, please contact either Art Sitzberger, president of the Booster Club, 479-5763 or Greg Hobbs, athletic director, 485-2786.

They spent two months living like pioneers in a cabin on the farm known as the "John Brown Farm and Tannery" near Meadville Penn. The farm was owned by John Brown before the Civil War. Many of us will remember him as being famous during the Civil war period from studying about him in our history lessons. The late Dr. Charles W. Olsen, a Chicago physician for many years, bought the farm some twenty years ago. Since the death of Dr. Olsen the farm has passed on to his two daughters, Mrs. Glenn Coburn and Mrs. Dayle Beach, Chicago.

Kruzich sees black year

NEW LENOX — The 1972-73 budget for Lincoln-Way High School is up about 24 percent but the tax levy is down, according to figures agreed upon at the meeting of the Board of Education last Thursday night.

The budget, which covers estimated expenditure for the next school year is $3,075,966.98. The tax levy is $1,691,397, which is $78,704 less than last year's levy of $1,770,100. The reason for this, according to Supt. Joe Kruzich, is the increase in state aid. It also is expected that the assessed valuation for the district will be higher.

Lincoln-Way High School is still operating in the black, Kruzich said, and he expressed hope that the budget will continue to remain balanced. He also has hopes that it will not be necessary to sell tax anticipation warrants until February.

Kruzich was commended on his investment of school funds which have earned $8,000 in interest.

Of the new budget $2,097,583.10 is earmarked for the education fund from which salaries are paid and school supplies and materials are purchased. This figure compares with $1,691,936 for the 1971-72 budget. The building fund in the new budget is $296,405.88; bond and interest, $381,162.50; transportation, $110,393; Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, $36,810 and the working cash fund, $153,612.50.

The tax levy lists transportation at $68,719 education fund, $1,230,492; building fund, $262,000; Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, $37,185; working cash, $50,000; fire prevention and safety, $23,000 and special education, $20,000.

The building fund has been given a new name by the State Department of Public Instruction, Kruzich said. It is now called "Operational, Building and Maintenance Fund." It is intended to take care of maintenance costs and is not intended to finance new buildings. Sometimes school districts ask for an increase in the building fund in a referendum and some voters confuse it with a request for funds to erect a new building.

With the levy for fire prevention (life safety) the district will have built up a total of $72,320 which should clear up all the bills for this work, Kruzich informed the board. The Lincoln-Way district began this work before the state made it mandatory.

"It was a bold move on our part," Kruzich said, "but we got the job done rather than scatter it over three years, and we were able to do it cheaper too." Smoke barriers and exit doors in strategic points were installed following a building inspection by the state.

'Better chance if slum'

MOKENA — The Brightwood sewer project again came up for discussion at the village board meeting last week when a couple who purchased a lot in the subdivision wanted to know how soon sewers would be available.

Village attorney George E. Sangmeister said no definite answer could be given but the probabilities were that it might be spring. Some of the residents are said to have hired a lawyer, Sangmeister said, and plan to fight the assessment proceedings. This would cause considerable delay, he added.

"There are some that want the sewer and water program," he said, "and there are others who don't want it at the price they would have to pay. When the assessment roll is spread and is approved by the court, then the village can let a contract for the work. That is when we can say with some certainty as to the time the program will be completed."

The village is now seeking a disinterested person to serve as commissioner to spread the assessment on the properties to be benefitted. The board hopes to make this appointment at its meeting next Tuesday.

Protests made after the assessments are spread could result in more delays, Sangmeister said.

The couple at the board meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, have sold their home and must give possession soon, they said. They bought a lot in Brightwood and want to build there but lack of sewer facilities is holding them up.

When Brightwood was annexed in 1970 and sewers promised, the village expected the Owens Land Trust developers to build a sewage treatment plant on Hickory Creek.

The understanding between village and developer was that the treatment plant would be turned over to the village for maintenance and operation. Hooking the Brightwood laterals to a trunk running to the Owens Land Trust plant was planned. This would have been a gravity flow job and at that time engineers estimated the cost would run about $22 a foot.

The Owens Land Trust developer built a pond south of U.S. 30 but that has been the extent of the development. The Brightwood people demanded action so the village decided to connect the proposed sewer lines there with the village plant on Wolf Road, north of the village. A force main is necessary to carry the sewage until it can be fed into a gravity line on 116th Avenue.

A lift station is also necessary and the village wants to use larger pipe than is necessary for just Brightwood in order to make sewer facilities available for people along the proposed route if they elect to annex to the village.

The village has no cash with which to share the cost of the sewer extension but is prepared to sign an agreement with the residents that the money coming in from tap-ons along the sewer route would be divided among them instead of going to the village.

Mayor Will Tuttle explained that efforts to obtain a HUD grant to defray part of the cost of the proposed sewer have not succeeded. An official of HUD, the mayor said, had explained that Mokena is too prosperous to get anything but a low priority for those waiting in line for some government money.

If the Brightwood area was a slum now it would have a chance to get some government aid, it was pointed out.

There is another proposed development adjacent to the Owens Land Trust in which two of the major figures also are involved in the Owens project. A sewage treatment plant will have to be built if the development is to get approval, the board has said.

Whether Brightwood's sewer would be hooked to this new plant is a possibility, it was said, especially if litigation by Brightwood residents delays the sewer program for another six months or year.

It is possible, it was said, that such a connection would be cheaper than the present estimated price for connecting with the Wolf Road plant — $36 a foot. Wages and material prices are higher than they were in 1970, according to Village Engineer George Barber, so the program is going to cost more than it would have cost in 1970. The board adopted an ordinance to construct the sewer and water lines in Brightwood by special assessment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hester, 11208 W. 193rd St., and Mrs. Emil W. Reckemer, 193d Street and Wolf Road, came to the board meeting to ask that something be done to control surface water. Hester said that he is getting flooded out by storm water. Mrs. Reckemer had the same complaint.

They put some of the blame on the run off from the parking lot and roofs of the five apartment buildings now being constructed on Wolf Road. They also complained that water from the village is running on their property. Tuttle said the village would try to find some remedy for the program.

Trustee Chester Ebert, head of the Sewer and Water Committee, said that the only thing that was going to solve all of the flooding problems—or at least minimize them—would be a storm sewer system. One was proposed several years ago at an estimated cost of a million dollars and the public's response when asked to write in and say "yes" or "no", the no's had it by about 18 to 1, Ebert said.

Mayor Tuttle said he is naming a committee that will deal with subdividers and developers interested in locating here. There will be three members of the village board on the committee, and the chairmen of the Plan Commission and the Zoning Board.

The committee heads from the board will be the chairmen of building, presently Robert Teske; the sewer and water chairman, now Ebert, and the chairman of licensing and ordinances, Lloyd Leyerle.

The committee will give developers guidance in what is required and is expected to expedite matters. It also should cut down on the time now taken by promoters in long discussion before the village board, it was said.

Village Engineer George Barber was instructed to tell the contractor laying the sewer mains from Pheasant Ridge to the treatment plant to restore streets and parkways to their former condition.

Property owners are especially upset, it was reported, because the sewer laying crews have uprooted their mail boxes and left them lying in the ditch. At the recommendation of Trustee Ebert the board purchased fire extinguishers for the village hall, the library, civic center and treatment plant at a cost of $644.

The board also let a contract to the Water Tower Paint Co., and Iowa firm that has been doing business in the area for many years, to put a new metal roof on the water storage tank. The price is $8,557.

The Weber property west of Schoolhouse Road, a 50-acre tract, has been formally annexed. The annexation ordinance and the zoning ordinance covering it, have been adopted.

Mokena picks Needham

MOKENA — Berle Needham, LaPorte Road, whose term as county auditor of Will County, expires this fall, has been named business administrator of Mokena.

His services will be part time, beginning Oct. 1, and continue on that basis until Dec. 4, when he is expected to devote full time to the job. His starting salary was fixed at $500 a month.

Needham was hired on the recommendation of Mayor Will Tuttle. The mayor pointed out that the growth of the village, coupled with ever increasing demands on the mayor's time and other members of the board made it imperative to retain someone who could act as a liaison man. He will work with the public and the board, follow up projects and handle many of the problems that now claim the time of officials who also have their own businesses and affairs to look after.

New Lenox was the first of the area communities to make use of a business administrator. Frankfort was next to make use of the plan and now Mokena has adopted it.

The board also hired Shirley Burton,

Brightwood, as secretary for the village board at $3 an hour. She replaces Charlene Bergman whose resignation was accepted by the board with sincere regret. Mrs. Bergman has served the board as secretary for the past nine years. Press of other duties, she said in her letter to Mayor Tuttle, compelled her to resign.

The board also hired Robert Melendez as a fulltime policeman at a starting salary of $8,000 a year. He will be on probation for six months, as is required of all new fulltime officers. He has been a regular part-time policeman. The appointment is retroactive to Sept. 1.

Robert J. Rust, who has been on the maintenance staff part time, was transferred to fulltime basis, also retroactive to Sept. 1. The starting salary is $600 a month, which increases to $625 in December and $650 next March, with no overtime.

Rust and Larry Spiess, superintendent of public works, started school Thursday night in the new course offered by Joliet Junior College in the treatment of waste water.

County selects Breidert

FRANKFORT — Burton Breidert, village manager of Frankfort, has been named as one of the 11-member Regional Planning Commission created by the Will County Board.

The commission will be an advisory body to the county board. Roy F. Hassert of DuPage Township, county board chairman, and Allan Mauer, Plainfield, and head of the board's Executive Planning Committee, will be ex-officio members of the commission.

The commissioners are to have three-year terms later but now they will draw for length of service when the organization meeting is held at 4 p.m., Sept. 28, in the court house at Joliet.

The commission is to hold regular monthly meetings. Expenses and accommodations for the commission will be borne by the county board. The commissioners, however, will serve without pay. The commission was formed, it was explained, to meet state and federal requirements for funding requests.

Breidert is experienced in planning matters as he has served, and is still serving, as chairman of the Frankfort Village Plan Commission for many years.

The only other appointee to the commission from the eastern part of the county is Prof. Paul Leinberger of Governor State University. The mayors of Lockport, Crest Hill and Joliet also are on the commission and Mrs. William H. Vandiver of Romeoville.

Trucks cause irritation

MOKENA — The village board plans action to divert turns by semi-trailers and trucks into Front Street from the parking mall.

Mayor Will Tuttle said that trucks from the Warehouse of a drywall firm doing business in Mokena have been disrupting traffic on Front Street. The vehicles are so long, and so heavily loaded that they have to be worked back and forth in order to complete a turn onto the street.

At a previous board meeting complaints were registered that the drywall trucks were carrying mud onto the streets and the operators disregarded requests to clear the pavement of mud.

The firm is using the east end of what was formerly the Welsh Lumber Yard to store drywall and have been using the parking mall as a road to reach Front Street, according to the complaint.

Shannon sketches signs

By Jean Wille

TINLEY PARK — Sign painting is not the strangest job in the world but it certainly rates high in rarity for 21 year old women.

Shannon De Lay, Designs by Shannon, is a professional sign painter. She has started her own business and is just beginning to build up a clientele of business people and individuals desiring lettering or designs for signs, vehicles or buildings.

Unlike most artistic people, Shannon, who also does oil paintings, has not retained any of her own originals. She and her husband, Pat, recently purchased a fourdominium in Bremen Towne, however, their home is completely devoid of any of Shannon's artistic works.

"I don't really like any of my own works," she flatly stated. "My mother has all my paintings in her home."

Fortunately for Shannon's business, other people do like her work. It could be that Shannon has not yet found her own accepted style of art.

Shannon is an extremely likeable young woman who looks more like 17 years of age than 21. She definitely has a strong sense of realism that is rarely found in the world of art. She doesn't seem to have the romanticism necessary to practice her given talents according to moods, but rather works at her profession as a businesswoman bent more on financial success than acclaim.

Shannon graduated from Hinsdale South High School in 1968. Prior to high school she took private art lessons in still life and complete two years of high school art in one year's time. She also studied oil painting after school during her teen years. At one time she had been intent on designing her teen years. At one time she had been intent on designing clothing and merchandising, however, the world of business met her head on and Shannon began painting trade marks on the backs of cars for Custom Craft in Lyons, Ill.

Niel's Toyota, Downers Grove hired her to design and paint their display window and she also painted the east side of the Sunbeam Building in Downers Grove. Shortly thereafter, Bill's Auto Center, Downers Grove, hired her to paint a 12 by 15 foot sign that involved setting up and working from a scaffold.

"The police stopped to investigate when Pat and I were putting up the scaffolding. It was 4 a.m. and I guess it looked like we were trying to break in," she said.

"The Lean Green Machine," champion demolitions car for the Santa Fe Raceway, Hinsdale, was also painted by Shannon. The car is owned by her uncle, Bill Minnick and the entire family decorated the car for the Show Car entree. They used a wood frame, chicken wire, tin foil, paint and smoke bombs to simulate an erupting volcano. The car took second place and another phase in Shannon's career began.

She has since painted seven semi-tractor trailers from Postma Cartage, Dolton, and construction and pharmaceutical signs. This summer she painted Bible School signs for a neighbor, another "first" for Shannon.

This young businesswoman enjoys being her own boss. Apparently the only drawback to her career is the weather. Since most of her work is done outside, bad weather puts a quick halt to progress.

Finnigan Ford, 171st St. and Oak Park Ave. has hired Shannon to paint the lettering on their used cars. If you happen to pass this local business and see a rather small girl with long blond hair and tattered blue jeans sitting on the hood of a car, with paint brush in hand, say "hello" to Shannon. But, don't linger. This girl has work to do.

Astrological engagements

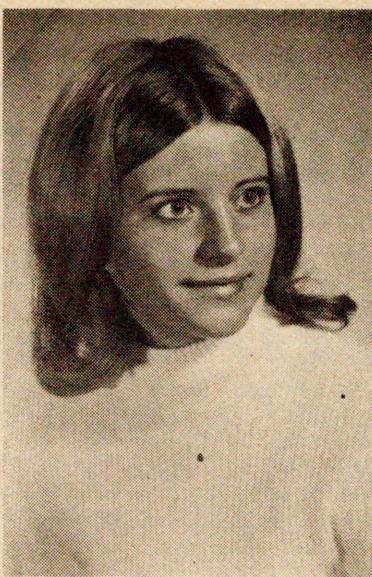

SAGITTA SAYS, if your engagement extends through earthy Virgo, August 24 to September 23, you'll feel Mercurial infiltrations and a note of practicality in your plans. Sounds conflicting, but Virgo's influences do tend to bring splendid activity of mind and body at the same time it brings frugality and cautiousness.

If you feel inclined to view your coming wedding somewhat seriously and even more somberly than before, you can put it down to the sign of the Virgin. Use it for what it's worth while making your momentous plans. But remember that analysis of situations must give way to sheer joy from time to time.

ORLAND PARK — Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gray, 14918 West Ave., announce the engagement of their daughter, Terri Lee, to Mark D. Fulton. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David V. Fulton, Beaumont, Texas, formerly of Palos Park.

Terri and Mark are both graduates of Carl Sandburg High School. Mark is presently a student at the University of Illinois and Terri is employed at the Oak Forest Animal Clinic.

The wedding is being planned for the fall of 1973.

LYNN TYLIN

TINLEY PARK — Mr. and Mrs. Felix Tylin, 16737 Beverly Ave. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lynn, to Mark Demarest. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Demarest, Plainview, Long Island, New York.

Lynn graduated from Tinley Park High School, 1972, and is now attending Kings Park School of Nursing, Kings Park, Long Island.

Mark, a 1972 graduate of Farmingdale Junior College, is now attending Stony Brook University, New York.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Florence Rohn's Art-a-facts

Rembrandt is an old favorite for many people. He is an artist one can trust and know that everything one sees of his work shows him as a giant of his age.

One of his wash drawings which never ceases to amaze me is "A Man In a High Cap with Folded Hands". Like much of his work, it is only modest in size, 6 1/2" x 5 1/2", yet, as usual with Rembrandt, it's rather monumental in special feeling. As casual as the drawing looks, it is an example of his absolute perfection in the execution of his profound notions about human beings. Rembrandt was a great psychologist.

The only thing that dates his drawing is perhaps the costume. The drawing dates about 1632-33 and is at the British Museum in London. This drawing is just another example of how many roots of 20th Century art can be found in the seventeenth century.

There exists in this drawing a certain sense of the presence of the man, an inner attitude orchestrated with a tincture of verve while sustaining the sublime. While psychology is old hat for Rembrandt, so are his aesthetics utilizing natural light effects. This particular drawing raises an old question.

Historically, one could say that the open quality of the light and dark pattern is later taken up by Ingres and Cezanne with variations of flatness or solids etc. It is always easy to see the continuity of Art. No matter what artists say or do, this continuity exists through the ages of man. And, likewise with art historians who find it difficult to understand that an artist has brains too and does not necessarily paint out influences directly for his life's work. It is not always a direct thing. Artists often criss-cross and work on similar things in different parts of the world.

When an artist studies the work of past masters in art, he begins to see other ways of doing variations in different aesthetics which may or may not interest him. Picasso combed through all of art history and then did fantastic things.

In other words, we all have to learn to differentiate not only one artist from another, but one painting from another. Historians are reluctant to do this. It is not an easy road to follow because it's all so universal and much easier to categorize everything.

The pictorial elements in this particular little drawing are ingenious. Of course, the literal use of perspective is that light areas are up front in the picture and all dark areas should be in the background which is another way of saying that darks recede and light areas emerge forward to the picture plane. However, Rembrandt places the darkest area on the right shoulder and a middle tone grey in the background shifting off to one side and dark brush strokes up front on the figure and which pushes it back slightly.

The light area falls across the figure from one direction while the head itself is on another plane crossing it. There is an elliptical feeling of space around the shoulders from front to back. The lights and darks are beautifully conceived and varied to give great pleasure to the eye of the viewer.

The thin lines in both contour and cross-hatching vary from the very fine line to large brush strokes and mass together for the figure to occupy space in a certain way. This lyricism looks very loose and casual.

The more one studies the drawing, the more one recognizes the work of a master. In realism, the job of the artist is to give form to his perception of planes in space. This is just Rembrandt's way of doing it.

Artists worth their salt have to pay recognition to the history of art. Otherwise, he or she won't know the context of their creative efforts.

We all need a sense of time and place. Life is much more interesting if we know our own cultural heritage. In art, this business of standing on the shoulders of giants is particularly true for artists because what the artist doesn't know may well hurt him in the long run. Of course, there is the other side of the coin. As long as a half a dozen people think someone is an artist, how could a person ask for more? One could then just live and paint.

People are often happy to settle for much less in the arts. It's a little like the scholar who devotes his life to ideas based on someone else's translations and may never realize the false premise during the time in which he lived.

So, where does this leave the viewer? For one thing, the public should expect more from artists. When one purchases a work of Art, one is patronizing and sanctioning a particular kind of aesthetic. I suggest that people take note of this Rembrandt drawing and other Master drawings.

Just don't purchase work that doesn't come up to this standard. Imagine what was possible three hundred years ago when artists began to work as individuals. One wouldn't expect to go to work in an ox and cart set-up today. Why not expect more of our artists who live two thirds of the way through the twentieth century? It's not just a matter of technology.

Perhaps it is that many artists don't aim high enough in the arts. It's hard work and it takes dedication and personal ethics. One has to love what one does in life. Mark Spitz, an athlete, aimed high and won during his life time. Artists may not win recognition until after they are dead.

The problem is in the realm of realism. Use the Master drawings as a mental reference. Realism has been around a long time and now so has the camera. Artists haven't had to document historical personages for over a hundred years. Italian perspective has been here for centuries. Just to make some image realistic just isn't enough at this late date.

An enormous number of options are open to artists who wish to make reference to realistic objects or figures in their work. One clue to test how masterful a figure study is — just look over the eyes very carefully — if you don't find variation in line and shading or shape making each eye slightly different it most likely isn't high quality work and even less likely to be masterful. Check out some of the old master paintings and drawings. Then, you've equipped yourself with slightly more perceptive vision.

Concern

Consumers view glass law

Every year about 250,000 people in the United States are injured by accidents involving storm doors, patio doors, shower enclosures or other glass installations. U.S. Public Health Service reports that most of the accidents occur around the home and at least half of the victims are under 15 years of age.

Ordinary annealed glass, the non-safety type that breaks into sharp pieces upon impact is usually involved in these accidents. Less dangerous types of glass are available, including tempered, laminated, and wire-mesh glass plus various types of plastics.

Tempered glass, for example, is three to five times stronger than ordinary glass and slightly more expensive. In the long run, it may be cheaper than ordinary glass because it doesn't break as easily and therefore need not be replaced as often. When tempered glass does break, it forms relatively harmless pieces resembling rock salt.

Fall fashions purchasable at style revue

FRANKFORT — A fashion show, sponsored by the Connecticut Hills Homeowners Association, is to be staged Oct. 14 at the Chateau, U.S. 45, Orland Park.

It is to be a luncheon, starting at 12:30. Tickets are $3.50. The price covers cocktails, food and the show, which will be a revue of fall and winter styles for all occasions. Purchases may be made after the show. Tickets may be obtained by calling 815-469-2820 or 469-2824, according to Mrs. Stephen Pranka, general chairman.

Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Product Safety has joined with private organizations on the Consumer Safety Glazing Committee to alert consumers to the dangers of ordinary glass. They will promote a model state law to require that all glass in critical locations be made of safety materials.

Until that law goes into effect, these suggestions may protect yourself and your family against accidents with glass:

Specify safety glazing materials when building a new house.

Consider replacing ordinary glass with safety glass before someone has an accident.

Replace broken glass only with safety materials.

Use decals, screens or furniture to help warn people about glass doors or walls.

Learn to be careful around glass doors and teach your children to do likewise. Your home may have safety glass, but your neighbor's may not.

Home courses rate increase

ORLAND PARK — James Matiya and Julia Lovejoy of Carl Sandburg's home economic department attended a consumer economics program in Joliet Sept. 13-14.

Miss Lovejoy is newly appointed to the staff at Sandburg this fall, and was a student teacher at Sandburg in September, 1971. She received a bachelor of science degree in education from Illinois State University this June.

Also joining the home economics staff this fall at Sandburg are Mrs. Janet Page and Mrs. Marilyn Davies.

This year ten courses in International Cookery will be offered. Last year only three courses were offered and according to Mrs. Florence Butler, department chairman, the increase is due to an indication of "how boys and girls want to be a part of the total world."

A new Child Development II class has been offered as a follow-up to the popular Child Development I classes held last year.

Another class that has shown a surge of popularity is creative stitchery, where enrollment has tripled.

Two groups to meet

Mayor pledges cemetery upkeep

ORLAND-TINLEY — The personal interest of two lawmakers may yet save the Settler's Cemetery at 154th and Harlem Avenue. Both State Representative Donald Moore and Village President Melvin Doogan are concerned about the maintenance of the cemetery.

Although the graveyard is almost surrounded by the Village of Orland Park it is not annexed, a fact which has kept the Village from assuming maintenance. Doogan said he will meet with Robert Bettenhausen, president of the Tinley-Orland Cemetery Association, Sept. 28 to reach some agreement. He said, "One of these days

I intend to go in and cut the weeds and trim it."

Doogan said, "We don't intend to step on anybody's toes but we're going to go in and try to keep it up."

Further help may come through Moore's efforts with the State. Moore, who is also concerned about a similar problem with the 150 year old Batchelor Grove Cemetery in Bremen Township, said, "The problem is they (the cemeteries) were sort of hatched and never born."

Moore said he is trying to do something through the Illinois Department of Conservation and the State Historical Society. "If I can get them to designate it a historical site, then we can get something going."

Another possibility is, if there is a veteran of any United States war buried in the old cemetery, there is a chance for a federal grant.

Moore said he didn't expect action until the new term of the legislature starts in January.

The Cemetery is under the legal control of the Tinley-Orland Cemetery Association. A campaign to raise funds for the cemetery has brought less than $300.

The campaign for funds goes on. Contributions may be sent this week to the Cemetery Fund, c-o Orland State Bank.

The HERALD will publish the names of all contributors in next week's issue as purchasers of a "lot" in the cemetery.

Silver Lake Gardens wants to join village

ORLAND PARK — Three homeowners from Silver Lakes Gardens appeared before village officials Sept. 18 to ask how part or all of that subdivision might annex into Orland Park.

Collin Gray, Edward Ruddy and Norman Lund said they all have wells and drain tiles and would like to tie into the village sewer lines.

Village Attorney Raymond Pieper said they must be contiguous to Village boundaries, which Silver Lake Gardens is at several points.

Secondly, a petition can be filed with the village containing the signatures of all owners and all electors in the area wishing to annex.

If all of these signatures can not be obtained at least 51 per cent of the homeowners, and 51 per cent of the electors who wish to annex can petition the Circuit Court of Cook County to submit an order to the village to proceed with annexation.

Several questions arose regarding easements, individual lots annexing and "sewers without water". Ted Allen, Silver Lake resident, asked if Board officials would come to a meeting of the Homeowners' Association. Village President Melvin Doogan advised the men to get together with the people of the area.

Village officials would come and talk with them. "I don't believe we'll have any problems," he said.

Firemen to college

OAK FOREST — Thornton Community College offers local residents many opportunities for educational courses. 1972 will be the first year in which Thornton will offer Fire Science Courses for those citizens interested in fire fighting and fire protection.

Chief David Waite has announced that all full-time Oak Forest firemen will be attending Thornton Community College this fall and studying fire science courses and related subjects. Chief Waite will also attend Thornton and take courses along with his men. Other Oak Forest firemen attending Thornton will be Lt. James Berger, Engineer David Nieminski and Firemen Robert Rice, John Alpers and John Dolan.

In addition, the Oak Forest Fire Department will be attending various fire training workshops and seminars put on in the midwest region.

Friday quake shakes southwest

TINLEY PARK — A 'mild to moderate' earthquake, registering approximately four on the Richter scale, shook the southwest Cook County communities as well as Chicago and five midwest states at 12:23 Friday morning.

Casper M. Murphy, 6645 W. 172nd St., Tinley Park, said, "I was in the kitchen by the sink getting a drink when I felt this jolt. That's just what it was, a jolt," Murphy said.

Murphy has a five gallon water cooler in his third floor apartment. "I heard this thud outside my door. When I turned around the water in the water cooler was shaking violently. It continued to shake for two or three seconds," Murphy said.

Murphy also said he heard a rush of air outside his apartment door but said that it could have been his imagination.

Varied reports said the tremor lasted 10 seconds. Another report timed it 15 to 20 seconds, and one report from Chicago's south side said there were two shocks.

However, it is known that the tremor was felt as far north as Oshkosh, Wis. and south to Bloomington. Reports of the vibrations came from Cedar Rapids, Ia. east through Chicago to beyond South Bend, Ind. and parts of Michigan.

A Tinley Park Police Officer said, "A few alarms went off but that's natural for a thing like that." No major calls or serious incidents were reported which could be attributed to the earthquake.

According to Chicago's National Weather Service the quake was mild and of short duration. There were no reports of serious damage or injuries.

Mokena, junior college develop park program

MOKENA — The comprehensive recreation program designed to accommodate all ages, from pre-schoolers to senior citizens is expected to be launched early in October.

Registration is to start this month. Those interested in participating in the various activities are to sign forms that will be available at the village hall, business houses and through the schools, and mail or bring them to the Zodiac Club, Cross and Union Streets, in care of Mokena Park District.

The park district is sponsoring the program and two interns from the physical education department of Moraine Valley Community College will teach and direct. A nine-month program is now being set up but eventually those in charge plan to make it a year-round project.

The Willowcrest, Carpenter Street and Arbury Hills schools' gyms will be used as well as the Mokena Civic Center, which now houses the Mokena District Library, the Zodiac Club and Senior Citizens Organization.

At the meeting of the Mokena Village Board last week it was decided that the Civic Center would be available to any local civic citizen group and that a calendar be maintained at the village hall to set up dates for its use.

Nancy Osborne, one of the committee formed to get the recreation show on the road, was at the village board meeting and arranged for use of the civic center for table games Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 3 to 5 p.m. and Fridays, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Mayor Will Tuttle reported that a 4-H group wanted to use the center 7 to 9 p.m. the second Tuesday of each month and the Homemakers Extension Unit has put in a bid for Wednesdays. The Public Property Committee, headed by Trustee Robert Teske, will set up rules for use of the building and the responsibilities of the users.

The students from Moraine Valley Community College who will have charge of the recreation program are Glen Nosek and Gene Wojciechowski. Howard Scheidt, head of the department of physical education at Moraine Valley, will supervise the work of the student directors of the Mokena program. They work without compensation.

It was the Youth Commission of Mokena that interested the park district in the program. The park district has already voted $400 to finance.

Vets may call direct

CHICAGO — Improved service to veterans, their dependents, beneficiaries and representatives, who reside in the Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox area, has been announced by the Veterans Administration.

Direct telephone communication through an Enterprise Number has been set up by the Veterans Administration at its Regional Office in Chicago. The number to call is 800-972-9140, which is toll free. The charges are picked up by the Veterans Administration.

The line is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and inquiries can be made direct concerning a veteran's benefits and service.

Wilson, Brown to head ballots

By Karen Haave
FRANKFORT SQUARE — After several weeks of deliberation, the Nominating Committee of the Frankfort Square Homeowner's Association has proposed the names of 13 area residents, less than half of whom will be elected to serve in the six presently unfilled offices.

According to N. D. Brown, spokesman for the committee, each name submitted, whether it was mentioned briefly or more elaborately by petition, was given studied consideration to insure a dependable, trustworthy slate of nominees, according to the Nominating Committee. Following small-scale investigations and personal interviews, the committee has designated its choice of candidates.

Two residents have been suggested for the office of president. First is David A. Wilson, 366 Kingston Drive, presently acting ex-officio of the association. Wilson is an "outpost" teacher at Farragut High School, has served on the Community Planning Committee of the Lakewood-Balmoral Residence Council.

Nominated by petition for the presidency is N. D. Brown, 246 Laurel Drive. Brown is the senior staff assistant, Midwest Region Headquarters, of the IBM Corporation, and performed official duties as Committee Chairman of the St. Louis Jaycees for three years prior to taking up residence in Frankfort Square.

Three persons have been recommended for vice-president. The first is Lynn Black, 313 Greenfield Lane, who is a manufacturer's representative for Nasbro Industries. He is a former vice-president, secretary and director of the Pennsylvania Jaycees. He is also responsible for helping to draw up existing by-laws of the Frankfort Square Homeowner's Association.

Also for veep is David A. Abels of 241 Laurel Drive. Abels is the warehouse supervisor of Hi-Low Foods, and has been a homeowner for 14 years.

Mrs. Patrick M. Manley is the third vice-presidential candidate. Originally nominated by petition for the office of treasurer, Mrs. Manley requested that her name be removed from consideration for that office. Ultimately, she was re-nominated in this category.

She served for two years the elective office of vice-chairwoman on Chicago's Model Cities Program. In addition, Mrs. Manley organized and served as volunteer instructor for a skating program at Clarendon Park in Uptown. She makes her home at 309 Holly Lane.

Presently unopposed for treasurer is Kenneth J. Morales, 243 Laurel Drive. Formerly a certified public accountant with Arthur Young & Company, Morales is now employed as assistant to the controller for Wm. Wrigley, Jr. Co.

Mrs. Peter Corollo has been nominated for secretary of the association. A member of the Frankfort Square School PTO, Mrs. Corollo is the administrative assistant at Chelsey School in Frankfort. Opposing Mrs. Corollo is Mrs. L. J. March, 301 Greenfield Lane. She is a draftsman for the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Two of the five persons nominated for the office of director will be elected. One of the five is Michael F. Reilly, a cost accountant for the Johnson and Johnson Co. He served four years in the Air Force as an air craft maintenance officer, and was previously cost accountant for Container Corporation of America in St. Louis. Reilly and his family live at 248 Laurel Drive.

A draftsman for the Electro-Motive Division of General Motors Corporation, Albert Kamm, 317 Greenfield, also has been proposed as a candidate for director. Kamm, a homeowner for 14 years, is also an officer of the National Model Railroad Association.

V. "Gabby" Marsch, assistant manager of the Wintercorn Standard Oil Co., is the third aspirant for directorship of the association. He was previously a conductor for the Illinois Central Railroad, and now resides at 301 Greenfield.

Homemaker and mother of two children, Mrs. Terrence Parfet, 236 Holly Lane, has in the past held positions of responsibility, and therefore is considered by the committee a worthy candidate for the office of director.

She was formerly the manager of the Park Forest Management Corporation, and later was employed as travel director for the Brunswick Corporation.

Final candidate, Stanley W. Sanders is the production foreman of Sherwin Williams Co. Presently living at 359 Kingston Drive, Sanders was, for five years, block captain for the Tinley Terrace Homeowner's Association.

"We consider all persons named to the slate to be fine representatives for the association," said N. D. Brown. "However, we as a committee do not have absolute control over the nominations. Further nominations may still be made."

Association by-laws Article V, Section 5, provides for additional nominations. Anyone wishing to do so must file the name of the nominee with a member of the nominating committee (Harry Jones, 321 Greenfield; Andy Houston, 337 Greenfield; Mrs. D. V. Kowalski, 379 C Jefferson Ct.; Mrs. Boyd Andersen, 311 Greenfield or N. D. Brown, 246 Laurel) supported by a petition signed by at least 15 residents of Frankfort Square, by 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30.

Officers and directors will be elected at the next general meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m. at Arbury Hills School (date pending confirmation of the school board.)

Celtics' Olszta dropped with injury

NEW LENOX — Junior Ed Olszta must have caused a special sparkle in the eye of Providence High School Coach Matt Senffner during the first half of the Celtics' meet with the Montini High School football squad Saturday.

As the horn blew calling a close to the half, however, Senffner's smile seemed marred by gloom.

During the first half of the game's action, runningback Olszta carried the ball 11 times, scrambling for 55 yards and gaining a Providence touchdown. But, with only seconds to go in the second period Olszta leaned forward for extra yardage only to topple to the grass with a Montini gridsman crushing his right leg. As the second half began, Olszta was on the sidelines with a broken ankle, finished for the season.

Before leaving the game, however, Olszta saw all the scoring which was to take place during the Providence opener. Montini opened with a touchdown during the first period and proceeded for the two extra points. Providence came back with two touchdowns to Montini's one during the second period of play. At the half, the score stood 14-12 for Montini.

Statistically, the game belonged to Providence during the second half.

Quarterback Dick Mandella piloted the Celtics into the air and gained a game average of 10 completions on 16 pass attempts. Working closest with Mandella was end Joe Dailey who managed seven catches and 77 yards.

It was Dailey who managed the second Providence touchdown as he pulled down a 31-yard pass from Mandella. In final figures, despite the losing margin of two points, the Celtics showed distinct playing power over the Montini squad. Providence gained 237 yards to 159 for Montini, with 14 Celtic first downs to 11 for the Montini team. Senior John Buchanan, fullback, also went to the sidelines during the first half with leg damage. Buchanan's injury was listed as a bruised ankle. Despite a limp, he was on the field for more activity during the second half.

To date, the Senffner squad would appear injury-prone. Already out of the lineup with a pre-season injury was tackle Nick Gallo. With Olszta down, Senffner will now have to dip into his sophomore ranks to find replacements for his already small team.

From Saturday's preview, it would appear the Frosh-Soph have little to spare in terms of varsity recruits. The underclassmen team bowed to Montini 36-0 in the season opener.

Junior Ed Olszta crashes through three Montini players Saturday afternoon at Providence. It was the final time the standout junior would be available to the Celtics this season. Olszta suffered a broken ankle shortly after this play. Montini took the game 14-12 which was the score when Olszta was sidelined.

Punt-pass-kick competition set

WILL COUNTY — The annual punt, pass and kick competition co-sponsored by the Ford Motor Co. and the National Football League, will open at the local level Sept. 29 and Sept. 30, for Frankfort and Mokena entries.

Girls are eligible for the contest for the first time this year, it was announced. The only thing a youngster has to do is sign up for the contest and be on hand when it is held. There is no entry fee and all the equipment is furnished by dealers.

Cooper-Show Ford is the Frankfort sponsor and Cooper-Hostert Ford is in charge of Mokena. Youngsters eligible must be between eight and 13 years old. They compete against those in their own age group.

According to Del Krumwiede, at Cooper-Show Ford, the competition at Frankfort will be held under the lights on the baseball field in Community Park, starting at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 29.

The contest at Mokena, of which David Bergman, of Cooper-Hostert Ford, and Richard Quinn, of the Willowcrest Junior High faculty, are in charge, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 30, at the school.

Scoring is based on distance and accuracy. One point per foot is given for punts, passes and kick-offs, with one point deducted for every foot the effort is off line.

Winners advance to the zone contests the following Saturday, and the district is next. Starting the fourth level the competition will be held before kick-offs and at half times of NFL games, with the finals staged at Los Angeles as part of the Super Bowl game.

The names of the national champions are inscribed on a plaque at the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Canton, O.

ILLINOIS

Aetna gives drivers in Illinois a new break on auto insurance.

Aetna just threw away the rule book and the rate book for auto insurance to give you a better deal on costs and coverage. We call it the All-Driver Plan.

Here's how it works. If you have a good driving record, chances are you're getting a break on your insurance costs. Well, we can probably give you an even greater break.

With a fair driving record, and one or two fender-benders over the past couple of years, you're most likely paying more for your coverage. But with our new approach you probably won't have to pay as much.

For drivers who've been involved in repeated accidents or violations, and have trouble getting insurance, we've found a way to insure them with broad coverage. And we'll give them the best guarantee in the industry on renewing their policy.

Call us today. Or stop in and let us show you the 10 new ways you can qualify for lower rates or broader coverage. We think you've got a lot to gain.

Eagles win opener, 13-6

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg Eagles kicked off their 1972-73 football season last week with a 13-6 victory over Proviso West. Starting quarterback Wally Akinson put the Eagles on the board with a nine-yard run early in the game. Mike McNichols scored the other Eagle touchdown with a two-yard plunge. The Eagle's big ground gainer of the day though was big Rusty Vincent. Vincent picked up 94 yards on 15 carries and showed both a second and third effort on each carry. Coach Cliff Eade was "very happy" with the teams overall performance, but especially his defense. Earl Hammond, Bill Hammertree, Mark Erickson and Dave Kettmann were all standouts on defense for the Eagles.

Coach Cliff Eade thinks his defense is strong and, "There isn't a team in the conference the Eagles can't move the ball on."

He also said the strength of the defense surprised most people and the offense will improve more as every week goes past.

The Eagle's next game will be on Saturday, Sept. 23, against Homewood-Flossmoor, the game beginning at 2 p.m. at Flossmoor. The sophomore contest will start at noon.

Flags flying

Chris Young, No. 60, of the Fieldcrest Bears, lightweight team in the Flag Football league of the Gingerwood-Fieldcrest Athletic Association, runs past the Fieldcrest Packers to score a touchdown in the recent season opener.

Sandburg CC

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg High School cross country team showed considerable improvement this week but could not muster a win. The Harriers of Sandburg were beaten 19-37 by Rich Central and later in the week by Lockport Central, 20-35.

Tim Close was the only bright spot for the Eagles against Lockport Central when he finished first. Close, only a sophomore, is doing a "great job on the varsity," according to cross country followers.

Coach John Wilson thought his boys could have won any one of those meets and is still hopeful for a 50-50 season. The Eagle's ran against Eisenhower High School Tuesday, Sept. 19.

Sports Shorts

OAK FOREST — The Oak Forest Baseball Association will hold registration for 1973, Saturday, Sept. 23, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at United Methodist Church, 159th Street and Long Avenue.

All boys between the ages of 8-16 can register for the program. New registrants must bring a birth certificate.

The registration fee for one boy is $15 and $25 for families with two or more boys.

OAK FOREST — The Oak Forest Raiders football teams began their regular season Sept. 9 and 10 at Crestwood.

On Saturday, the PeeWee B's went down to defeat 24-6. The Light Weight B's likewise suffered a loss, 24-11.

On Sunday, the Light Weight A's topped Crestwood 14-0. Heavyweights lost their match 20-16.

Pee Wee A's also suffered defeat, 18-12.

ORLAND PARK — The Saint Michael

Wildcats of Orland Park will be looking to repeat as CYO champs this year under head coach Bob Price.

Coach Price is high on his team this year. For one thing, his has the outstanding Mike Revord in the line with several returning boys from last year's title winning team. Pat Nelson will be at quarterback with Tim Roth and Billy Lyons playing the halfback positions. Mike Kelper will start at fullback.

Barring injuries, the Wildcats hope to win the title again this year. The only weakness apparent now, said Coach Price, is depth. If a key player gets hurt, it could mean trouble.

Mike Revord will be the one to watch this Sunday when the Wildcats open against Saint Margaret of Scotland. Revord weighs in at 165 pounds and is considered the fastest man on the team. Revord was voted Most Valuable Player of the team last year while only a seventh grader.

The game will be at Saint Michaels in Orland Park on Sunday with kickoff time at 3:30 p.m.

Bengals taste defeat in opener

OAK FOREST — The Oak Forest Bengals suffered a 7-0 defeat at the hands of Glenbard South in the first varsity contest of the school's young career.

"The kids played well considering it was their first varsity competition," said Coach Dan Wile. The game was played at Hillcrest field because the field in Oak Forest is not yet completed. The Bengals hope to have their own field complete before their next game Sept. 30 against Providence.

The only score of the game came in the first period, Coach Wile explained that his young squad simply was not prepared in the opening minutes of the game and were simply caught off guard. The varsity squad consists of 24 juniors and six sophomores.

In sophomore competition, the Bengals suffered a 21-7 defeat earlier in the afternoon.

In Saturday morning competition the freshman "A" team lost to Lincoln-Way 38-24, while the "B" team suffered an 18-0 loss.

According to Coach Wile, a total of 24 juniors, 36 sophomores and 65 freshmen are entered in Oak Forest grid' competition this year. Coach Wile expressed confidence that his team would profit from this year's seasoning.

OAK FOREST — Craig Forster, 15938 S. LeClaire, was recently promoted to assistant section supervisor in the advanced ordinary systems division of the Prudential Insurance Company's Mid-America home office.

Forster joined Prudential in June, 1968 and since that time has received four promotions.

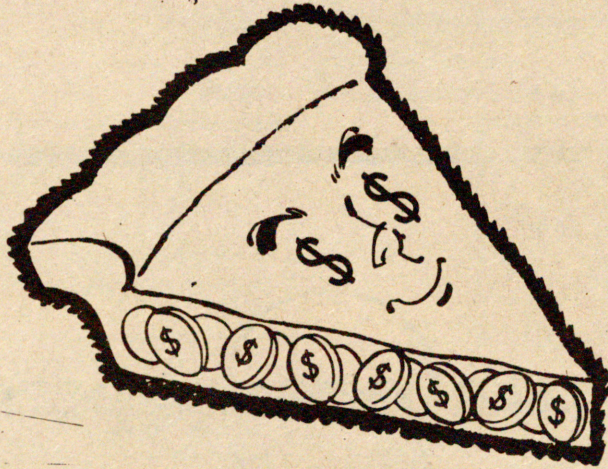

Second crash

SPRINGFIELD — Dave Fall, New Lenox, a race driver who doubles as a race writer by the Joliet-Herald News, is in the intensive care unit of St. John's Hospital here as a result of injuries suffered in the feature race at Shabean Speedway last Saturday night.

Two cars, riding high along the track in the second lap of the midget feature, came together and wound up in the path of Fall's car. The latter drove over the wheels of one of the cars and then was hit from behind by another racer just as Fall hit the wall.

It was reported that his right arm was severely cut and he has head lacerations and possible spinal injury. This was the second crash for the car. Fall's teammate, Phil Stebbins, was severely burned in a crash Aug. 13, and is still undergoing skin grafts.

Party seeks office help

MARKHAM — Several hundred people were present last Saturday to hear speeches by Democratic candidates C.F. (Bob) Dore, Leland Rayson and Anthony Scariano at the grand opening of the Southwest Cook McGovern-Shriver Headquarters, 3039 W. 159th St.

Dore, speaking of his opponent Edward Derwinski's voting record in Congress, said Derwinski opposed 15 pieces of environmental legislation and five end-of-the-war issues presented to Congress. Dore said he will base his own campaign program on positive issues of this nature.

In Rayson's endorsement of Senator George McGovern for president, he called President Nixon a "charleton, who says war is peace, and depression is a good time." Rayson is seeking reelection as state representative (D-9th) along with Tony Scariano.

Scariano told the crowd that the McGovern campaign will "keep in touch with all the people" through the door-to-door voter registration drive and canvassing.

In line with this grassroots, meet-the-people campaign, volunteers are asked to sign-up for the voter registration drive and precinct canvassing which begins this week.

People also are needed to help with the Headquarters' daycare center for mothers who wish to participate in the campaign.

Besides the daycare center, there is a white-donkey sale of artwork and other articles donated by local citizens. Also there is a cake-and-coffee corner for visitors to the Headquarters.

Chief warns of fire hazards

TINLEY PARK — Dirty, defective heating equipment causes the deadliest home fires, studies by the National Fire Protection Association show. Some 1,600 persons lose their lives in such fires each year.

With cold weather approaching, Fire
Chief Robert Bettenhausen urges everyone to rid his home of this potential source of tragedy.

"Check and repair all heating equipment in the house and don't overlook the chimney," Bettenhausen warns. "A clean, tight chimney means fuel saving as well as fire safety," the chief notes.

The volunteer also states, "Make sure that all room heaters, whether they are built-in or portable, are in first-class operating condition, clean and steady.

Get rid of any heaters which could tip over."
"Any weakness in your home's heating system is most likely to show up when the system is pushed hard in cold weather," Chief Bettenhausen warns.
"As outside temperatures drop, indoor fire dangers rise, so don't delay in seeing that your heating system is ready for winter," he urges.

"Fire prevention" is the cry of Tinley Park Volunteer Firemen throughout the year but during the week of Oct. 8 - 14 they will be making special efforts. Volunteers Lt. Elmer Dull and Capt. Ronald Winterstein prepare some promotion material for Fire Prevention Week.

Shows condominium plans

Catalina receives approval

ORLAND PARK — A site plan for the first of several multiple family developments by Catalina Builders was presented for Planning Commission approval Tuesday evening.

Catalina President Ted Voss showed a 10-acre tract with 100 condominium units priced in the $40,000 bracket.

The area, which is part of 80 acres of Catalina land zoned for multiples, is east of Catalina Drive and north and west of the Commonwealth Edison highlines.

According to the plan the units will all be two-bedroom split level with no unit above another. Three basic designs will be grouped in blocks of from four to six units. A new street will be constructed at about 153rd Street going east to Harlem Avenue.

This plan is part of an overall plan agreed upon at the time of the annexation of the property to the village in 1969. The Planning Commission gave its approval subject to making 153rd Street a full street.

Builder Cliff Mehling appeared before the board to inquire why the board refused to sign his plat for Maycliff Unit

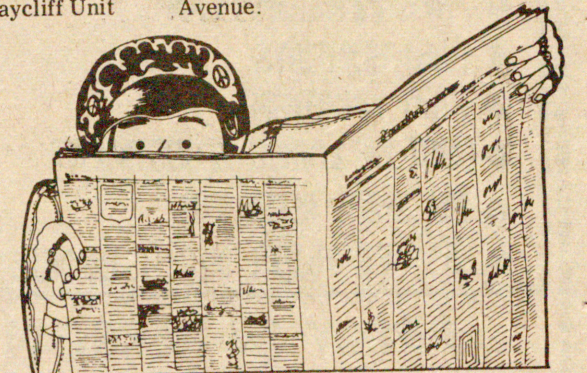

Seven. Commission members said that until Mehling completed requirements previously agreed upon he would be unable to continue building.

The board authorized Chairman Bob Miller to sign Mehling's onion copy when the commission received certification that Mehling had corrected a drainage ditch between 145th Street and 145th Place, a sewer problem at the entrance of 87th Avenue, the entrance at 87th Avenue and presented a flood control map for the filled area west of 87th Avenue.

Doogan Day swells village park fund

ORLAND PARK — The second annual Doogan Day golf outing has swelled the treasury of the village's park fund to $18,377.40, according to the financial report.

Although heavy rains prevented golfers from starting play on the Silver Lake Country Club course before 11:30 a.m. last Wednesday nearly 400 finally played. The guest of honor, Mayor Melvin Doogan, played the entire round in the rain.

The largest crowd ever served at Silver Lake, 686 people, were fed in two shifts during the evening meal. More than 1,400 tickets had been sold for the annual benefit program. Mayor Doogan said, "It (the proceeds) will all be put to good use."

The financial statement for the event shows $16,153.00 collected for ticket sales; $830.00 for prize donations; and $254.17 from interest earned on last year's balance. Receipts totaled $17,237.17.

Expenditures included $36.00 Orland Press; $23.50 Commercial Press; $4,923.48 for 684 dinners at Silver Lake; $775.00 for golf; and $688.90 for prizes. Expenditures totaled $6,446.88 for a net profit of $10,790.29.

The 1971 balance was $7,587.11 for a current total of $18,377.40 in the park fund.

William Fisher served as master of ceremonies for the evening banquet and included at the head table with Mayor Doogan and his wife were Mrs. Fisher, Tinley Park Mayor and Mrs. John Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Nick DiPaolo, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and Mr. and Mrs. John Coghill.

Members of the committee putting the event together were Dan Brown, Carol Bateman, William Crowhurst, Jon Anderson, Fred DiPaolo and Roger Frantz.

Drug Bill 'best in country'

TINLEY PARK — A provision of Leland H. Rayson's House Bill 518, which he calls the "French Connection Bill," signed by Governor Ogilvie Sept. 1, allows a law enforcement agency to seize any vehicle used for illicit drugs. (In the movie "French Connection" hard drugs were transported from France to the U.S. under the rock panels of an auto.)

Rayson hailed this bill as the best in the country since these bills were designed to concentrate on the drug traffic. "We want to isolate the traffic of marijuana from the control of the hard drug 'Junkie' who prey upon the young," Rayson stressed.

Fearful of the continued use of law enforcement under the Draconian penalties of Illinois statutes, Rayson also has recommended changes in the law consistent with the findings of the recent Presidential Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse.

He recently appeared before the Illinois Legislative Investigating Commission and cited the findings and recommendations of the Presidential Commission. Rayson is the sponsor of House Bills 395, 396 and the 518 bill dealing with drug abuse.

Another finding was retroactivity, giving the Illinois Supreme Court the peg to rule that the prior Illinois Uniform Narcotic Drug Act was unconstitutional setting the scene for Governor pardon of some 600 youths in Illinois penitentiaries who were serving up to life for possession or for a small sale of marijuana.

Dispelling misconceptions about his house bills Rayson said, "We are against the use or sale of marijuana under any circumstances and do not encourage its use."

WILL COUNTY — The Will County Can-Doer's 4-H Club is now accepting new members between the ages of 9 to 19. The next monthly meeting is at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 22 at Francis 4-H Field. For more information call Jerry Krohn at 815-834-0171.

OAK FOREST — Vehicle and pedestrian traffic safety can be achieved in many ways. The Oak Forest Police Department cautions motorists to the hazards of parking automobiles on the wrong side of the street. Illegal parking on the wrong side of the street can cause as many safety hazards for children walking across the street and passing motorists and therefore the police department cautions residents to take the time and park on the proper side of the street.

In addition, parking in front of fire plugs and in fire lanes also causes severe hazards for the Oak Forest Fire Department. The police department requests that residents watch the parking areas so as not to hamper fire lane traffic in the many subdivisions of the community.

TINLEY PARK — Louise "Grandma" Goesel is 95 years old today, Sept. 20. Most people in Tinley Park know

"Grandma." She has lived in the village since 1905.

This smiling epitome of grandmotherhood is a faithful member of Zion Lutheran Church. If "Grandma" is not seen in her special pew at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday morning, something is wrong. Her tiny gray-haired head seems somehow or other to belong to the altar view as one enters the church.

"Grandma" has three grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. She lives with her son, Walter "Doc" Bruening and daughter-in-law, Marge.
